Ground Crews Comb
Wilds in Search for Missing Plane

BULLETIN
SALT LAKE CITY. (P)—Belief seven occupants of a lost Western Air Express transport plane never will be found alive was voiced today by Pilot Jimmy James, W. A. E. pilot aiding in the rain-hindered search. Asked whether he believed the four passengers and crew of three were still alive, in the transport missing more than 30 hours, Pilot James said: "If they have not perished from the crash, they have died from exposure."

SALT LAKE CITY. (P)—Fog and rain in which an airliner vanished with seven persons, grounded most searching planes today and hampered groups on foot and horseback in Utah's mountain wilds. Poor visibility halted a well-organized air hunt and officials of Western Air Express, operator of the 10-passenger transport unheard from in more than 30 hours, placed chief reliance in ground crews.

However, one of the company's own ships, piloted by Jimmy James, took on observers and (Please turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

BUYS $76,800 BEAN RANCH

C. M. McCain, Santa Ana real estate dealer, today had acquired 128 acres of bean land at Bristol street and Delhi road. The property, valued at $600 an acre, represents a $76,800 consideration. The land was part of the Holly Sugar company holdings in that region. Several hundred acres of this property recently were sold for more than $500,000.

Buyers who figured in the latter deal were Antone Borchard, L. M. Banks, the Griset brothers and John A. Marling.

State Makes Three Million on Liquor

OLYMPIA, Wash. (P)—Washington state's liquor business profit for the year ending Sept. 30, totaled $3,397,346 more than a million dollars over the profit for the previous year, Chairman L. E. Gregory of the liquor board said today.

Revenues from liquor sales totaled $12,750,635. Permit sales amounted to $169,319; license fees $849,707; beer tax, $719,486; wine tax (domestic), $26,313; miscellaneous income, $2164. The profit goes to state and county funds.

Movie Star and Star's Wife Crash

HOLLYWOOD. (P)—A bruised nose and dislocated shoulder, painful mementoes of an automobile collision, kept Miriam Hopkins from a movie set today.

The blonde screen star's chauffeur-driven machine, leaving the driveway of her home, struck the car of Mrs. Fred Astaire.

Who Is Mr. 544-09-3671?

The Journal today announces a unique campaign, the aim of which is to make Santa Ana's Social Security-conscious.

The campaign takes the form of a most diverting contest, a sort of who's who idea. Here's the scheme: The Journal, today and for the next 10 days, will publish the social security pension number of a prominent resident of this city.

In addition to printing the number assigned to the well-known Santa Ana, The Journal will furnish a description of the man behind the number. Not too much of a description, but enough to make the guessing fun.

To the first person who guesses correctly the identity of the newly-numbered pensioner, The Journal

To See Santa—Only Once

CONFIRM U. S. BOARD DEFIES PEACE PLAN OWN EDICT

21 American Nations in Accord on Proposal
For War Union

BUENOS AIRES. (P)—A United States proposal for consultation by the American republics if American peace is menaced from within or without won final approval today by the full inter-American peace conference, along with eight other projects.

The United States plan, only slightly modified as it passed through a committee, had the unanimous sponsorship of all the 21 American republics. It was described by United States Secretary of State Cordell Hull as "epochal."

Hull's resolution urging all American republics to complete ratification of five existing American peace treaties, which also had unanimous sponsorship, likewise was quickly approved at the plenary session.

It reiterated a similar recommendation of the Montevideo pan-American conference of 1933.

A resolution to honor 50 jurists of American nations and "all others who have contributed to the progress of international law" was the only one passed over.

LEGAL ANGLE WILL BLOCK LAWSUIT

First Case Dropped and New Complaint Will Not Be Filed

Supervisor W. C. Jerome found himself today without the threat of a damage action hanging over his head.

The Journal learned today that it is more than probable that J. F. Burke will not press an action of any kind against Supervisor Jerome.

There was a reason for this new development. Because Burke's false arrest complaint for $50,000 was filed against Jerome before Burke had been cleared by Justice Kenneth E. Morrison of charges placed against him by Jerome, the case has no standing in court. It is necessary that a false arrest be filed after the defendant has been cleared.

So Burke dropped the false arrest case, and his attorney, W. M. Burke, announced plans for filing a malicious prosecution suit (Please turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

CONDITION OF POPE WORSE

VATICAN CITY. (P)—Pope Pius XI awoke today after an uncomfortable night following a relapse from the ailments which have kept him bed-ridden for 11 days.

The 79-year-old pontiff, however, was reported still adamant in his determination to regard his illness merely as the inescapable effect of old age.

It was understood his discomfort during the night was due to his difficulty in breathing and also to pain resulting from the varicose condition of his left leg.

Both the Pope's legs became partly paralyzed when he was stricken.

NO CHRISTMAS FOR MAXINE

ERIE, Pa. (P)—A gay Santa Claus doll meant nothing to 3-year-old Maxine Yarrington today—nor did the excitement in a children's ward of a hospital as nurses prepared a Christmas tree. She is asleep, has been sleeping for 15 months with her eyes wide-open.

Nurses made the little Santa Claus doll gleefully holding out its arms for a baby's embrace. They held it before Maxine, but her eyes didn't change.

Physicians and nurses have little hope that she ever will recover.

Journal Invites Children to Attend Big Christmas Party And Show at Local Theater

It's not often a boy or girl gets a chance to play Santa Claus to some less fortunate youngster. Here in Santa Ana the time comes once a year, and that's when the annual Christmas show for kids is staged at the Broadway theater.

This year the big show will be staged at 9:30 o'clock next Saturday morning at the Broadway theater, sponsored by The Journal with the cooperation of the Broadway and the Santa Ana Council of Parents and Teachers.

There are few children in this city who will not want to see the big show and do their part to make this Christmas a most happy one for the children who might otherwise be forgotten on Christmas day.

You don't need a cent to see the show. All you need to do is bring a serviceable article of clothing, a good toy or some unperishable food. It's easy, isn't it?

Pump Lady Ducks Counter-Attack

By FRANK ORR

The Battling Mrs. Bates, the Silver Acres Water Queen, today had come out ahead in the latest round of the water ruckus in the West Fifth street subdivision. The defendants, symbolized by some 15 heads of families, jumped from their corner when the bell rang. They swung a lusty demurrer to Mrs. Bates' unlawful detainer suit. Mrs. Bates ducked.

Referee Chris Pann, Huntington Beach justice, stepped in. He ruled the demurrer out. Which means the case will go to trial some time early next month, probably.

But there were more complications in the ruckus, which started with a lease (obtained by Mrs. Bates for $5) to the Silver Acres water pumping plant, continued with a water shutoff when Mrs. Bates' good neighbors refused to pay her for the water, and exploded with a pop when 37 thirsty families kicked the pump house door in, and since then have been guarding the pump night and day. They even sleep there.

The complications included: 1. Hints by Mrs. Bates that she would charge Judge Pann was prejudiced and ask that the civil (Please turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

Extension of a glass workers' strike to three hitherto unaffected manufacturing centers threatened today to curtail automobile industry operations.

The Federation of flat glass workers, refusing to accept a contract offered by the Libbey-Owens company, called a strike of company employees last midnight in Toledo, Ohio, Charleston, W. Va., and Shreveport, La., to support demands for union recognition and salary adjustments.

Already there were 6000 Pittsburgh Plate Glass company employees and 1300 Libbey-Owens-Ford workers at Ottawa, Ill.

The two companies produce 85 per cent of the safety glass used in American-made automobiles, as well as 70 per cent of the nation's window glass and 93 per cent of the plate glass.

Pacific seaports, strike-bound by a maritime walkout, saw hope of a settlement.

Four hundred truck drivers struck for higher wages at Philadelphia.

A strike of 2500 hat and millinery workers was called at the John B. Stetson company in Philadelphia.

The Flint, Mich., trolley company began hiring drivers to supply 106 who went on strike a week ago, demanding wage increases.

Negotiations were at a standstill in a strike at the J. I. Case company farm implement plant in Racine, Wis. At San Francisco 800 men remained out for the 47th day in a warehousemen's strike, and 2500 men continued a 39-day walkout from three plants of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation.

WAR-TIME BABY
At U. S. Embassy

MADRID. (P)—The American embassy celebrated its first war-time baby today.

A cow tethered at the embassy by one of the refugees staying there since it was closed as an official residence, delivered a fine 30-pound calf. It was christened "Miss Embassy."

PARIS. (P)—Efforts of the green-shirted "peasant front" to enforce a "starvation strike" on Paris failed today to shut off the capital's supply of fresh vegetables.

While truck farmers in the vicinity of the city withheld their produce from the central markets for the second day, motorcades of vans rumbled in from the provinces.

The government paid no heed to the strike leader's threat the truck gardeners would not deliver vegetables in Paris "until the peasants get the right to earn a living."

Orange county treasury was swelled today by state warrants totaling more than a quarter of a million dollars, representing the monthly allocation to schools and a quarterly allocation of gasoline tax money.

Schools received a warrant for $175,248.80 to cover their operations for the coming month. Anticipated at $70,000, the allocation of gasoline tax money for Orange county was $84,037.49, Treasurer Terry E. Stephenson reported.

Present Evidence
In Murphy Trial

Opened last yesterday, trial of W. K. Murphy on grand theft charges continued today in Presiding Judge H. G. Ames' superior court.

Murphy is accused of defrauding George S. Ward of $1000 and issuing Ward a fictitious check for $450.94.

WASHINGTON, Pa. (P)—Officials of the Citizens National bank said today $1000 disappeared from a teller's cage after a man visited the bank carrying what they described as a wand with a bulb on one end. Albert J. Allison, president of the bank, said:

"We're not sure exactly what happened. Some of the customers say the stranger poked the wand through the grill work and removed the packages of bills. A check-up shows $1000 is missing."

TRAP ALLEGED MURDERER

Federal Men Draw Guns
And Capture Culprit
At Placentia

His vow never to be captured alive had stood Rito Lopez, ex-convict and suspected of being the murderer of two men, in poor stead today. Federal immigration officers, guns drawn, just marched into a Placentia house and captured him.

Lopez, deported from this country several years ago after having served a jail term on conviction of acting as agent for a Mexican vice ring, had been pursued for a week all over Southern California by the two inspectors.

Fails to Draw

Haggard from an almost-sleepless night Monday night, Inspectors Carl W. Floud and George G. Edwards said today they saw Lopez through the window of the Placentia shack yesterday.

"So we just walked in and got him," said Floud. "He didn't get a chance to use his gun, even though he had been bragging about not being taken alive."

Lopez, 44 years old, is charged with murdering two men in Mexico since the time of his deportation from this country two years ago. Fleeing from justice there, Mexican officials said, he crossed the border into the United States again.

Faces Trial Here

The inspectors, stationed at Colton and formerly with the immigration office in Santa Ana, heard about his return and trailed him.

Now Lopez will be tried on charges of violating the alien fire-arm act and on charges of disobeying a court order in returning after deportation. After a probable jail sentence, the inspectors said he will again be deported, and Mexican justice can take its course on the murder charges.

WOMAN'S BODY
MUMMIFIED

WILDWOOD, N. J. (P)—The woman's body found in two potato sacks in the wood along Dias creek was "mummified"—not burned by fire or acid as thought at first—a medico-criminologist declared today, after an autopsy.

The mystery of the body, with brilliant red polish on toe and fingernails, deepened as Dr. Harrison D. Martland, medical examiner, said the woman had not been shot, stabbed or strangled.

He explained the mummifying by saying the body had been "kept for a long time in a very hot and dry place—perhaps an attic." The skin was brown like a mummy.

Dr. Martland said she had been dead between two and five months.

ROME. (P)—Negotiations for a new commercial accord between the United States and Italy, have been begun, to replace the expiring treaty of 1871, it was announced officially today.

The announcement also disclosed the denunciation today of the existing pact, effective in one year.

Behind the Scenes

Whither is Europe heading? Is it war? No one knows the answer, but Drew Pearson of the "Washington Merry-Go-Round" is trying to find it. He recently sailed for Europe to learn at first hand what's going on over there, and today on Page 12 The Journal is publishing the first of his impressions. In a letter to his partner, Robert S. Allen, he says: "I am going to write of the changing attitude, of some of the human cross-currents behind the scenes in Europe that seem to be drawing an unwilling but helpless population into the vortex of war." Read the "Merry-Go-Round" daily in The Journal. It's always interesting.

TROOPS RUSH TO RESCUE PREMIER

State of Warfare Exists
Throughout Nation as Crisis Is Reached

TOKYO. (P)—The possible death of China's Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek as the captive of a Chinese war lord moved Japanese officials today to the grave consideration of a war which might involve Japan.

There were two avenues of speculation: First, that the kidnapping of Chiang was Communist-inspired; second, that the chaotic condition existing in China threatened Japanese interests and territory and was especially dangerous to the Japanese-created empire of Manchoukuo.

Communist Campaign

Japan, cooperating closely with the established government of Manchoukuo, pursued a well-defined policy of punitive protection of that nation's borders as has been evidenced in the recent past in military combats with both Russian and outer Mongolian border patrols.

Japan's stated policy of opposition to the growth of Communism in China has involved repeated warnings of military measures un-

HEWITT CASE IS DROPPED

SAN FRANCISCO. (P)—Because of her daughter's reluctance to appear again, Mrs. Maryon Cooper Hewitt will not be returned here from New Jersey for prosecution on a charge of conspiracy to commit mayhem.

District Attorney Matthew Brady announced the case would be dropped after counsel for the daughter, Mrs. Cooper Hewitt, said she would be an unwilling witness. Brady, who obtained an extradition order after months of effort, expressed regret he had not been notified sooner.

The charge was based on testimony by Miss Hewitt before the grand jury that she was tricked by her mother and two physicians, Drs. Samuel G. Boyd and Tilton E. Tiltman, into an operation which left her sterile. The physicians were acquitted of the charge last August.

Advance Weather Forecasts Due

WASHINGTON. (P)—Secretary Wallace is willing to take "one chance in a hundred" of finding a long range method of forecasting weather.

Official government forecasts now are limited to two days ahead, with "outlooks" to a week.

In his annual report, Wallace told of numerous scientific attempts underway to discover a means of long range forecasts.

STORM GIVES COUNTY TWO INCH RAIN

Clear Weather Forecast Here for Tonight And Thursday

The water situation in Orange county has been considerably improved during the past 48 hours, agriculturists agreed today, peering gloatingly over figures which showed that nearly two inches of rain fell during the two-day storm period.

The gentle showers, which fell intermittently throughout last night, were of inestimable aid to citrus ranchers and others in the county, as there was very little runoff.

The storm, for awhile anyway, officially ended this afternoon. Any further showers would be highly embarrassing government weather forecasters, who predicted clear skies tonight and a bright, sparkling day tomorrow, with somewhat cooler temperatures and moderate northeasterly winds.

Although Santa Ana failed to receive as much rain as some other county communities, 1.58 inches were recorded during the two-day storm, with .30 inches falling in the past 24 hours. This brought the season's total to 2.83 inches, as compared to 1.24 inches last year.

Black Eye Photo Filed in Court

A startling photograph of D. B. Colbert, his eyes black and almost closed, adorned the case files in Santa Ana justice court today, as Justice Kenneth Morrison continued assault and battery cases against Bascom and Hobart Combs, alleged to have inflicted the "shiners" in a cafe brawl.

Bascom Combs pleaded guilty to the assault and battery charges and will be sentenced Jan. 4. Hearing on probation application is set for the same day. Hobart, on a plea of not guilty, will hear Judge Morrison's verdict the same day.

MORE ABOUT AIRLINER TELLS STORY OF KIDNAP ATTACK

Hundreds of volunteers—CCC enrollees, sheriff's deputies, ranchers and mountain villagers—scattered in a systematic hunt along the precipitous slopes of 12,000-foot Mt. Timpanogos, 25 miles southeast of Salt Lake City.

Land Crews Out Somewhere on that monarch of the Wasatch range, anxious searchers feared the lost liner may have crashed yesterday with its occupants, including a trim little stewardess whose choice of her job over love is an airline romance familiar to the nation over.

The land parties worked out of Alpine, a village on the western slope of the Wasatch mountains where a score of persons reported hearing a plane in distress in the rain and muck before Tuesday's dawn.

Alpine is situated at the western mouth of Alpine canyon. The crag-marked canyon cuts deep between Mount Timpanogos and its sister height to the north, 11,000-foot Long Peak.

Five or six miles southwest of Alpine stretches Utah Lake—A body of clear water 15 miles long north and south and six miles wide. A valley only a few miles wide lies between the lake to the west and the mountains to the east.

Motors Stopped Flying northward on its regular route from Los Angeles to Salt Lake City, seachers theorized the liner piloted by the veteran S. J. Samson struggled through this narrow valley.

There, dangerously near the mountains and the canyon, is where startled early-risers near Alpine, 30 miles east of the regular airline route north and south, said they heard a plane's motors falter—and stop.

The twin-motored Boeing, which left Los Angeles at 11:15 p. m., Pacific time, Monday night, and was due here at 4:10 a. m., Mountain time, Tuesday, last was heard from when Pilot Samson radioed his position over Milford, 180 miles southwest of Salt Lake City. This was at 2:27 a. m., Mountain time, Tuesday.

"We are depending largely on the ground search," said Frank Eastman, western air station manager here.

At 10 o'clock tomorrow morning a bottle of champagne will be cracked open on a new Grayhound super coach and officially christened "The City of Santa Ana."

The ceremony will take place in the courthouse annex grounds, with the chamber of commerce in charge. Miss Lolita Mead, membership secretary of the chamber, will christen the bus.

Secretary Howard I. Wood of the chamber invited Mayor Fred Rowland and members of the city council to take part in the ceremonies.

A special demonstration for 4-H members will be given at the show, beginning at 10:30 a. m., in the judging pavilion. In the afternoon members may attend the rodeo given in connection with the livestock show.

MORE ABOUT CHINA

Generalissimo Chiang met these warnings with an active campaign against Communism in China, thereby healing numerous breaches with the Tokyo government.

NANKING OFFERS ONE MORE CHANCE

SHANGHAI (AP)—The Nanking government will give rebellious Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang a final chance to deliver Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, safely, a high executive official said today.

"But if the mutineers resist the advance of Nanking troops or Marshal Chang refuses to abandon his stubborn position, our divisions will not hesitate to employ the utmost striking power at their command," he warned.

The official asserted Sianfu, Shensi provincial capital, where Premier Chiang is held, is surrounded by local divisions.

The first duty of the punitive expedition is to rescue Chiang, he said. His statement did not recognize previous reports, still widely circulated, that the military overlord had been slain.

New State Head

With an unconfirmed report sweeping China that Generalissimo Chiang has been killed, the national government placed the whole nation on a wartime basis today.

Whether the "George Washington of the Republic" was alive or dead could not be immediately determined with assurance, for he was taken captive last week by his enemy, Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang, and held at Sianfu, China's stronghold in Shensi province.

A civilian stepped into the vacancy created by Chiang's absence from the capital. He is Dr. H. H. Kung, acting as head of the executive Yuan, highest administrative department of the government.

MORE ABOUT BURKE

It was said that if Jerome went to the district attorney and stated his case before the arrest, then Jerome was acting on the advice of the attorney, thereby relieving himself of a charge of malice.

Difficult Case In view of the fact that Jerome did consult the district attorney, the latter must have approved the case or he would not have authorized the arrest of Burke, it was explained in a radio talk by Burke. This would make it difficult for Burke to get a final judgment.

Burke was arrested on complaint of Jerome following a political advertisement which appeared in the Independent. Jerome felt the advertisement injured his chances of reelection.

He contended it was in violation of a law which says advertisements designed to defeat a candidate must be signed by responsible persons.

LOUDON DEBATES WITH WARMER

With Dr. George A. Warner of Santa Ana and Lotus Loudon of Anaheim debating, a fundamental economic question was discussed at the Forum for Political and Economic Education last night.

The question debated was: "Resolved: That federal or state agents should have the final say as to whether a man shall be discharged and another hired in his place."

Dr. Warner led the discussion on the affirmative side, approaching the question from Stuart Chase's idea of the economy of abundance. He stressed the economic importance of men earning a living wage.

Loudon cited the dangers of political control, using present conditions as an example of drifting into centralization. He advised getting back to the old way of doing things, W. H. Blanding presided at the meeting, attended by around 75 persons.

Next week the subject to be debated is "Resolved: That married women working when their husbands have jobs are detrimental to society."

McCauley Takes Masonic Chair

Charles McCauley of Anaheim was installed master of Santa Ana council No. 14 of the Royal and Select Masters at a ceremony performed last night at the Masonic temple in Santa Ana.

Kiwanis Club to Install Chiefs

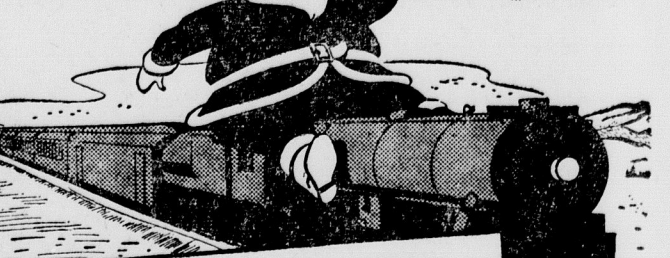

Kiwanians will install officers at a formal dinner and Christmas party tomorrow evening at the Santa Ana Country club, the dinner hour being set for 7 o'clock.

Five hundred and fifty Elks and members of Elks families greeted Santa Claus last night when he visited them at their big annual Christmas party and turkey dinner in the temple on North Sycamore.

Santa brought toys and candy for the children. Three big Santa Claus dolls filled with candy, gifts from Robert Brown of the Santa Ana bookstore, were given as special prizes to Clifton Cole, Jack Brinkerhoff and Jim Dixon.

Guests also brought gifts which will be distributed by the Elks Dec. 24 when they pass out 250 Christmas baskets to local families.

Surety Concern Sues A. W. Cleaver

When the state supreme court decided against A. W. Cleaver, Fullerton laundryman, on his appeal of a $385 judgment in superior court here, it hinged him into another court action.

The judgment was in favor of Jose Parra, who brought suit through his father, Manuel Parra, in 1927, over injuries incurred when Cleaver's laundry truck backed into the lad.

Surety company, which gave Cleaver a $4800 bond required in his appeal, started suit to collect $3427.16 which the company paid out in settlement after the appeal failed, and for $625.33 to meet its own expenses of collection.

Townsend News, Views

By WALTER R. ROBB

(This is a non-political, non-partisan column, dealing in Townsend news and views, and written by a prominent Townsend leader. Any opinions which are expressed herein are not necessarily those of The Journal.)

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Roberts, Anaheim, and enthusiastic members of the Townsend club of that city, are moving to Corona.

Roberts is a photographer of long experience and is opening a gallery in the city of their new home.

The Anaheim Townsend club is losing two splendid boosters, and the city of Anaheim two fine citizens.

C. E. Chamberlain, 702 Amstutz street, Anaheim, who has been a member of the Anaheim club almost from its beginning, very suddenly passed away last Thursday night.

He was in attendance during the evening at the pot-luck dinner held by the Anaheim Townsend club and seemed to enjoy himself as usual. During the night he became ill and was gone before the morning. He was a man of considerable ability and fine character. He was especially well known among the Townsendites of that city because of articles on the Townsend plan, which he frequently contributed and were published in the Anaheim papers. Mrs. Chamberlain survives him.

Mr. L. R. Twing, Brea, announced a new meeting place for the club of that city. The club has been meeting at 108 South Pomona avenue, but has secured the building just south of the Brea hardware store. The building, which is known as 115 South Pomona avenue, has been re-conditioned for the club's occupancy.

The regular weekly meeting will be held on Friday nights hereafter.

The Cypress club still functions in the giving of pot-luck dinners. And what dinners they are. The cooks out there certainly know their stuff. The writer remembers some hot-tamale pie, scalloped potatoes, baked macaroni and cheese, cabbage slaw, oyster dressing, apple pie a-la-mode, maple layered cake and coffee, all of which graced the tables one night when he was there. Last Thursday night another one of these dinners was held by this club in La Rue hall. Children of the members of the club put on a play which was greatly enjoyed.

C. C. Murdy presided over the Westminster Townsend club last Monday evening. The meeting was held in the I. O. O. F. hall of that city. L. C. Carlisle of Santa Ana brought a message on the Townsend plan.

Mrs. Daisy Radabaugh, well known Townsendite of Costa Mesa, was recently honored by the J. N. Stiffler W. R. C. by being elected its president. Mrs. Radabaugh for a long period served Costa Mesa club No. 2 in a very efficient manner as secretary.

The Anaheim club has recently received its new charter, issued Nov. 23, 1936, by the national Townsend office at Chicago. The number of the charter is 546 and bears the new "Townsend National Recovery Plan, Inc." name. The club officers signing the instrument were Mrs. Ida A. Freeman, president, and Mrs. F. A. Eager, recording secretary.

Hoyt Wyoff of the Garden Grove club reports the bazaar held Dec. 7 in the Woman's clubhouse was well attended. Delegations from the Stanton and also the Cypress club were present. Visitors from Riverside were also in attendance. Last Monday evening the club held another enjoyable meeting. W. A. Zimmermann of Santa Ana was their speaker.

Santa Ana club No. 2 held its regular weekly meeting in Townsend hall Monday evening. E. F. Millard and Walter R. Robb were appointed as trustees of the club to meet with ones appointed by other clubs to confer relative to the club's financial support and management for Santa Ana Townsend hall. The trustees appointed by the clubs and the Townsend club officers' association of Orange county will meet in a conference on Saturday night, Dec. 26, in the hall. At Monday night's meeting of club No. 2 the Rev. W. S. MacDougall of Fullerton delivered an address on the Townsend plan.

CITRUS MEN TO FIGHT PESTS

Fumigators and citrus men today prepared to launch a winter war against red and black scale, with the rainfall this week giving the signal to charge.

Agricultural experts expressed the opinion that the rain has strengthened trees sufficiently to allow fumigation without damage to foliage.

Although a huge hatch of scale has made treatment imperative, work has been held up for several weeks because of dryness.

Miss Ernestine Wakeham, who following her graduation last June from the University of California has been attending San Francisco State college and working at the Infants' Shelter in the Bay city, was expected home today from the North to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Wakeham, in Garden Grove.

Miss Mariana Baxter, a student at Stanford university, will come home the end of the week for a holiday visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Baxter, 826 South Birch street.

Orange county will meet in a conference on Saturday night, Dec. 26, in the hall. At Monday night's meeting of club No. 2 the Rev. W. S. MacDougall of Fullerton delivered an address on the Townsend plan.

Eleven Refused Entry
Popularity of the Southern Counties Invitational, which goes into its eighth year at Huntington Beach tomorrow, is shown in Conductor Leon Miner's announcement that ELEVEN basketball-playing schools were denied admittance.

Miner explains it is impossible to accommodate more than 24 schools because of the three-day time limit of the tournament. He originated the court carnival back in 1929, from experience gleaned in conducting a similar tourney in the East.

All of the defending champions—Santa Ana of the majors, Orange of the intermediates and Chino of the minors—will compete in 1936 play Dec. 17-18-19.

Walker Recalls Prank
San Bernardino and Riverside newshawks are coming out with glaring headlines, shouting their approval of the Citrus Belt league accepting Santa Ana as a sixth member next year.

Like The Journal, Sports Editors Bob Walton and Wilbur Fogelman of the inland rags, believe Santa Ana's entrance would help the Citrus Belt as much as the Citrus Belt would help the Saints. All of the mountain districts' scribbles and officials realize the league's present five-team setup is unsatisfactory because one school must draw a bye every week.

Vic Walker, Santa Ana sportsman, recalls warm relations with Riverside and San Bernardino in the 1900's. The schools had a splendid spirit, he said.

Before the "big game" the Saints, Walker among them, caught a group of Riverside players in a beach house at Laguna, and with long pieces of bailing wire, fastened doors and windows until the Riversiders were yelling for assistance. The next year, the Saints traveled to Riverside, and as was the custom in the early 1900's, were invited to remain over-night at various Riverside homes. Left End Walker was sitting at the dinner table with his Riverside guests, and the topic of conversation was how a group of Santa Ana boys dressed treated the home boys the preceding year. Walker, who, needless to say had as much to do with the wiring as any of his teammates, only grinned.

Niemantz Ineligible
Bearing out Coach Bill Cook's belief expressed in The Journal Dec. 5, Niemantz, Los Angeles Junior college's stellar halfback, has been declared ineligible.

The Western division champions, through their dean, have discovered Niemantz played jaycee football back in Iowa. The Cubs, however, will not be forced to relinquish their title because of a pre-season ruling on eligibility problems. The most they can do is apologize to other conference members.

Niemantz is the fine-looking lad who denied, in a mid-field huddle with Coaches Cook of Santa Ana and Glenn Ackerman of Los Angeles before the Don-Cub Southern play that he had played in the East.

What would have happened if Los Angeles had beaten the Dons for the Southern California championship? Nothing. The Dons had definite proof Niemantz was ineligible, yet they would not have officially protested, it is learned.

SUGAR BOWL IS SELLOUT

NEW ORLEANS, (AP)—The Sugar bowl football committee announced today all tickets to the Louisiana State-Santa Clara game New Year's day have been sold. A crowd of 40,000 is expected.

SANTA CLARA, (AP)—The Santa Clara Broncos, whose unbeaten record was knocked silly Saturday by Texas Christian, resume workouts today for their New Year's day game with Louisiana State in New Orleans' Sugar Bowl.

Coach Lawrence (Buck) Shaw said his information the Tigers was meager, but he will arrange a defense to match a "powerhouse outfit, perhaps the most powerful in the country."

Horton Smith Leads Money Winners in U. S. Pro Golf

Only $1.41 separated Guldahl and the third biggest cash collector, Henry Picard, of Hershey, Pa., whose winnings totaled $768.1. Playing in 22 tournaments, Smith won two—the Augusta National and another at Victoria, B. C.—and finished seventh or better in 15 medal competitions. Included in the 28-year-old Chicagoan's winnings was $500 of the special $1000 team prize offered

Yanks Dominate Poll A. A. U. PLANS OFF; POETS WIN, 40-33

Voted Best Team in United States Sports

(Editor's Note: This is the third of a series of stories analyzing results of the 18th annual Associated Press sports poll. It covers replies of the country's sports editors to the query: "What were the outstanding teams, in any branch of competition?")

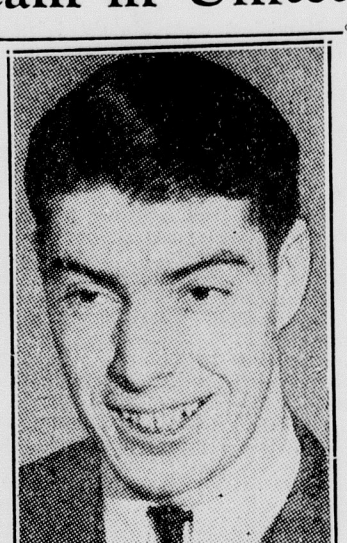

By ALAN GOULD
NEW YORK (AP)—For the fifth consecutive year, major league baseball's dominant club takes a bow for the outstanding team achievement in any branch of sporting competition.

To the world champion New York Yankees, for their record smashing triumph in the American league pennant race and their decisive victory over the Giants in the "subway series," goes the No. 1 ranking position of 1936.

Colonel Ruppert's latest title winning ball club thus becomes the first repeater in the six-year history of the Associated Press sports poll. The Yankees topped the list in 1932.

In an Olympic marked by exceptional team performances in many branches of competition, the Yankees' surprising decisive margin in the nationwide balloting, Gehrig, Di Maggio & Co. rated No. 1 on 43 of the 76 ballots returned and accumulated high total of 179 points.

Their neighboring rivals, the Giants, finished far down the list with only nine points despite a wonderful comeback after being counted out of the National league race in mid-season. Minnesota's footballers, for the third straight year, emerged as the runners-up in the poll. Despite their first defeat in four seasons, the Golden Gophers clearly were regarded the outstanding college gridiron outfit. They were No. 1 on a dozen lists and collected 107 points.

Most highly rated of the Olympic performances were those by the American track and field team and the University of Washington's eight-oared crew. Thirteen experts listed the track team first while six preferred the boatload of Huskies which swept the waters of Die Lange See at Garmisch.

Tabulation of the poll follows, with points tallied on 3-2-1 basis:

1. New York Yankees, world baseball champions, 179.
2. Minnesota, football, 107.
3. U. S. track and field squad, Olympic champions, 62.
4. University of Washington crew, Olympic champions, 35.
5. Green Bay Packers, National professional football champions, 17.
6. Louisiana State, southeastern football champions, 12.
7. Argentina's polo four, Olympic champions, 11.
8. New York Giants, National league baseball champions, 9.
9. Detroit Red Wings, National league hockey champions, 6.
10. Germany's Olympic team, 5.

Scattered points: 3 each for Hollywood Universals, basketball; British Davis Cup team, and U. S. Walker Cup golf team; 2 each for McPherson Oilers, basketball; Long Island university, basketball; University of Texas, relay team, and Japanese Olympic swimming team; 1 each for Cincinnati Reds, baseball; Yale university, football.

COMPTON FIVE TO COLLIDE WITH DONS

Their confidence restored by a 26-17 victory, Santa Ana Junior college's basketball tossers will play a return engagement with Compton's Tartars at Andrews gymnasium on the high school campus at 8 tonight. The reserves will clash at 7:15.

Fullerton, Santa Ana's keenest rival in the Eastern conference, scored a double killing over Compton, and Coach Blanchard Beatty's team certain they can duplicate the feat.

Beatty plans to run in all of his available talent, but said he probably would start the same combination that went so well at Compton. Kenneth Nissley and Erwin Youel will be at forward, Southpaw Harry Stanley at center, Bob Browning and Harold Eastham at guard.

Bob Paul, potential regular who played guard for Orange High last winter; Dick Dyke, transfer from Long Beach Poly; and Don Randall and Charley McIntyre, Santa Ana boys, will see action. Ed Eastham, brother of Hal, is expected back in suit.

The Dons play at Long Beach Friday night. The Vikings walked the home ground 39 to 14, lapped the home guard, but Santa Ana was greatly handicapped by lack of practice. Long Beach had played two previous games.

Miss Marble Will Play in Southland

BEVERLY HILLS, (AP)—Alice Marble, America's women's singles champion, will compete in the 23rd annual Southern California mid-winter matches, Dec. 26 to Jan. 3, at the La Cienega Tennis club.

Miss Marble filed an entry in singles and mixed doubles. She will team up in the latter event with Gene Mako, with whom she holds the national mixed doubles title.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIETZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, (AP)—Two days after the redoubtable Frank Carver, Pitt ballyhoo expert, began pounding the drums on the coast, the Rose bowl was a sell-out. . . . Old Strangler Lewis won another championship the other day. . . . one of the big air lines gave him a trophy for being the world's champion air traveler. Since he began flying ten years ago, the Strangler has made 200 coast-to-coast trips and 250 north and south flights as part of 1,500,000 air miles.

Charlie Dreesen has bet Bill Terry a $100 suit of clothes the Reds do no worse than break even in their 22 games with the Giants next season.

Branch Rickey is sending three young men through college (and they're not baseball prospects either). . . . Jimmy Downing, Tampa fight promoter, will call his new son James Dempsey, after old Jack.

The Norman (Okla.) High school gridders are making a round of the bowls. They were undefeated last year and the townspeople sent them to the Sugar bowl. This year they kept their record clean and will go half way across the country to Rose bowl. The boys say Miami and the Orange bowl will follow, if the cash holds out. . . . Jimmy Phelan, Washington coach, just can't wait to get back into the Big Ten. Oakland Tribune hears he may do so via Michigan.

Sixto Escobar has been offered 35 per cent of the gate to defend his bantamweight title against Lou Salica in Los Angeles Feb. 22 under the Joe Levy banner.

Picture of a guy well fed up: Judge Landis. . . . As a favor to Ray Flaherty, who did a lot for Tenth avenue Tech, Steve Owen released Ray from the Giants so he could coach the Boston Redskins. Ray returned the favor by knocking his old pals out of the National league football race. . . . Well, they can't accuse Joe Louis of letting that one rock along for the pictures, can they? What's all this talk about Ernie Nevers being the victim of a whispering campaign?

YOUNG NESTELL CHALKS UP NINTH KNOCKOUT IN ROW

In his tenth professional start since he won a Golden Gloves tournament here, the pile-driving young Westerner sank Pete Del Rio of Mexico City last night.

The end came after 50 seconds of the second round when Del Rio, crowding in, was caught flush on the chin by a paralyzing right cross. He was out several minutes.

A mild first round, in which Del Rio bobbed and ducked out of danger, decided him to slug it out with the Los Angeles youth the other nine stanzas.

In Nestell's own corner, Del Rio suddenly caught him with a right that sagged his knees, but when the Mexican attempted to follow up, Nestell connected with the knockout blow.

Quentin Matzen Cagers, Minus Spangler, Lose On Whittier Floor

Decision of Southern California A. A. U. officials to sponsor a tournament—instead of a league—has caused the Santa Ana Woolen Mills to apply for a franchise in the Southern California Commercial league.

Manager Quentin Matzen, whose charges lost a 40-33 thriller to Whittier's Poets on the Whittier college floor last night, said the Woolen Mills would compete with leading commercial outfits of the southland, and that several attractive games would be brought to Santa Ana. The schedule has not been drawn.

The A. A. U. league was dissolved, it is said, because the strength of the Universals and Joe E. Brown All-Stars could not be matched by the other members. The tournament, which will be conducted in February as a substitute for league competition, probably will be entered by Santa Ana, Matzen said.

Handicapped by the absence of Harold Spangler, center, the Woolen Mills could not completely cope with Whittier's classy attack, although Santa Ana held everyone in reasonably check except Wilson, who rang up 13 points. Doug Wheeler, forward, was high for the locals with 10.

RACING

By FRED A. PURNER

The value of the racing season at Santa Anita park as an outstanding attraction for the Southern California winter tourist season is shown by the following information furnished by the Los Angeles Turf Club:

Reports from transportation companies and a check on automobile travel merit the prediction that the greatest number of out-of-state visitors on record will be in Southern California this winter. Hotels, apartment houses and real estate offices already have reservations taxing their full capacity.

Horsemens with their families, participating in the racing season extending from the present wintering period until March 6, 1937, will number more than 1800 and will spend more than $1,000,000.

Current visitors invited to inspect Santa Anita park run into the thousands each week, and from out-of-state they number 20 per cent.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—University of Alabama is not interested in a post-season football game with St. Mary's or any other team, officials reiterated today. The statement was made after rumors of a proposed game with the Gaels in Los Angeles on Jan. 2 were heard here.

At the same time, the Alabama schedule for 1937 was released, and did not include a December game with the University of Washington. It was reported on the Pacific coast the teams might meet.

PREPS INVADE HUNTINGTON BEACH GYM

Saint Champions Draw Whittier Friday; 12 Are Busy Tomorrow

Basketball goes on parade tomorrow. The Southern Counties Invitational, conducted by Coaches L. W. Miner and Harry (Cap) Sheue and sponsored by the Hi-Y of Huntington Beach High school, will be renewed for the eighth time over the Oiler floor for three days.

Every high school in Orange county except Garden Grove—11 of them—will compete for titles in three divisions—minor, intermediate and major. Trophies will be awarded winners and runners-up in all divisions, and members of three all-star teams will receive awards.

Saints Defend Crown
Santa Ana won the major division '35 championship after hard-fought 23-22 and 26-23 victories over Compton and Pasadena Muir-Tech in the semi-finals and finals, respectively, but Coach Reece (Pinkie) Greene's Saints hardly expect to duplicate this feat. They were "dark horses" last year, and will be the same when they engage Whittier of the Foothill league at 4:30 p. m. Friday.

Fullerton of the Foothill league and Santa Ana of the Coast league will be carrying the county's colors along with the Orange league schools of Tustin, Orange, Valencia, Anaheim, Laguna Beach, Newport Beach, San Juan Capistrano, Brea-Olinda and the host, Huntington Beach. Outside entries are Long Beach Poly and Woodward Wilson of the Coast league, and Whittier, Pasadena Muir-Tech, Chaffey, Redondo Beach, Long Beach Jordan, Excelsior, Colton, Bonita, Corona, Downey and Chino.

Orange Shares Glory
Orange shared the limelight with Santa Ana last winter by winning the intermediate title from Huntington Beach's Oilers, who went on to win the Orange league crown. Orange upset Coach Miner's brilliant quintet, 40 to 37. Chino annexed minor division honors.

Miner organized the tournament in 1929, Chaffey winning the first crown. No school has been major champion twice. Whittier captured the laurels in '30, Glendale in '31, San Diego in '32, Pasadena Muir-Tech in '33, Long Beach Poly in '34 and Santa Ana in '35.

A complete schedule of first-round games for the three-day program can be found in an adjoining column.

EASTERN GRID TEAM PACKS

CHICAGO, (AP)—The 22 members of the all-East team will leave Chicago Friday night—after an initial workout at Northwestern university—for San Francisco, where on New Year's day they play a squad of Western football stars in a charity game.

Coach Hanky, former Northwestern selector, said he and Coach Andy Kerr of Colgate selected the Eastern squad players principally for their ability to play several positions. The small squad, he said, will necessitate switching of players in the event of injuries.

The Eastern players: Ends—Kelley of Yale, Wendt of Ohio State, and Nelson, Illinois. Tackles—Bryant of Northwestern, of Princeton, and Pierce, Fordham. Guards—Henderson, Carnegie Tech, Relva of Colgate, Widess of Minnesota, Hamrick of Ohio State, Centers—Sunderlin, Minnesota, and Ray, Dartmouth. Quarterback—Handrahan, Dartmouth. Halfbacks—Drakes of Wisconsin, Parker of Duke, Sandbach of Princeton, and Murray of Pennsylvania. Fullbacks—Kush, Pennsylvania, and Teth and Geyer, Northwestern.

MOSCOW, Idaho, (AP)—University of California at Los Angeles basketball Bruins scored their first victory of their Pacific northwest barnstorming tour.

The Bruins defeated here last night, 45 to 34, were the victims.

Grove Leads Hurlers With 2.81 Earned Run Average

CHICAGO, (AP)—Counted "out" as top-notch pitcher two years ago, "Lefty" Grove of the Boston Red Sox led the pitchers in the American league for the second season in a row with an earned run average of 2.81.

Official averages released today also showed that young Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians, though he won five games and lost three, was second to Grove with an average of 3.34.

He appeared in only 14 games and pitched only 62 innings, but Feller fanned 76 of the 227 batters he faced, an average of almost one in three.

Brick Dust

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling Editor
By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

CHRISTMAS, as far as the Orange County Coast association is concerned, is over. Except for lighting trees, and things like that.

But, while it lasted, it was one fine Christmas! Paper hats, 'n' surprise presents, nice music 'n' Tom Talbert's one-man band. The latter, incidentally, assured success of the affair. Couldn't help it. All this happened last night at Costa Mesa.

Tom Talbert was so musical last night he played enough music for a whole orchestra. Harmonica and guitar, at the same time, and he wasn't foolin', either. He played real music. Once, I thought I could distinguish "Comin' Round the Mountain." Sounded like it, anyway!

Bill Gallienne, Huntington Beach maestro, was in charge of the musical program, and he did himself more than proud. Of course, he had Jimmy McGargie, popular Long Beach singer. Jimmy sang last year and wowed 'em. The return engagement was even better.

Then Bill introduced the Golden State Saxophone quintet. Those guys wowed 'em, too. Dale Twigg, Stan Logsdon, Norman Noice, Hank Rankin and my friend Chuck Borland played real music, and it was appreciated, too.

And then came Marguerite Lobo and Betty Forster from San Juan Capistrano. Carl Hankey and family brought 'em. Miss Lobo played the guitar and both sang. "La Cucaracha," "La Golondrina," and lots of other songs, even obliged with "Rancho Grande," and Uncle Sam Meyer, the prominent publisher, joined in stronger than anyone else on the "type-e-es."

Dan Mulherron, as forecast in this department some time ago, was a wonderful Santa Claus. He handed out presents in fine style. Everyone present got at least two of 'em but the balloons made more noise than the noisiest presents. Speeches weren't very popular because of the bursting noises all over the place. Harold Grauel had the biggest balloon in the place, but someone got it with a warm cigarette, or something!

The party was just one grand time, and was featured, of course, by the dinner. 'Twas perfect, and members of the Woman's club should get medals, or something, for their efforts. Dr. C. G. Huston promised he'd get me the recipe for the sauce used on the pudding. And he'd better not forget, either!

The only one who didn't have such a good time was Mayor Henry Fate from San Clemente. Usually, Mayor Fate eases himself out through the kitchen at about the time he can grab a drumstick when he rushes by, but it didn't work, this time. He didn't know where the kitchen was!

All in all, it was the most successful Christmas party in the history of the Coast association, according to members who have been attending 'em since they started.

Credit should go to Mrs. Mae Jackson from Huntington Beach and to members of the Costa Mesa club, but I ate too much to be able to thank 'em. Hope somebody does!

Sam and I cooked up a deal in which another Sam, the Meyer person from Newport, figures prominently. As soon as Christmas is over, I'm going to make the second Sam very sorry for some things he said about my navy!

Incidentally, Fire Chief Frank Crocker at Newport thinks we should award him a leather medal or a new fire whistle to hang around his neck, or some other such prize for not entering The Journal's rain-guessing contest.

It was a great temptation, he admitted, because he knows all about the weather, and probably could have told just when it was going to rain, and how much. But he didn't, and let the amateurs have their fun.

I might try to dig up a barrel for the chief to catch his next big rainfall in!

W.C.T.U. Meets At Costa Mesa

COSTA MESA.—Members of the local W. C. T. U. met recently at the home of Mrs. Alice Teaney, East Eighteenth street, the meeting featured by a luncheon served at noon.

ANNUAL COAST ASSOCIATION PARTY HELD AT COSTA MESA ELECTION IS PLANNED IN JANUARY

Mulherron Is Popular as Santa Claus as 150 Attend Festival

COSTA MESA.—Although Santa Claus arrived in a blare of police whistles instead of the traditional sleighbells, members of the Orange County Coast association enjoyed a visit from that bearded gentleman at their annual Christmas party in the Woman's clubhouse here last night.

White-bearded Dan Mulherron took his annual role of Santa Claus, distributing small presents to more than 150 guests following a dinner prepared and served by clubwomen.

Name Committee President Elmer Hughes, Seal Beach, and Secretary Harry Welch announced that Mulherron, D. W. Leyden, Doheny Park; Paul Palmer, Lido Isle; Dr. C. G. Huston, Costa Mesa; W. H. Gallienne, Huntington Beach; D. M. Callis, San Juan Capistrano; Dave Prenter, Dana Point; E. L. Crawford, South Laguna; Dr. Thomas Spencer Miller, Laguna Beach, and J. P. Greeley, Balboa, will act as a nominating committee to name contestants for office at the annual election next month.

Gallienne was in charge of the evening's entertainment, presenting Jimmy McGargie, Long Beach singer, who annually takes part in the Coast association's fête. McGargie was accompanied by Lloyd Hart as he sang several numbers. Marguerite Lobo and Betty Forster, San Juan Capistrano, sang several Spanish numbers, with guitar accompaniment by Miss Lobo.

Quintet Plays Dale Twigg, Stan Logsdon, Norman Noice, Hank Rankin and Chuck Borland, members of the Golden State saxophone quintet, popular in presentation of several numbers.

Dr. Huston announced a schedule for the annual association Christmas lighting contest and also a list of prizes. Dr. Miller, Laguna Beach, greeted past presidents of the organization, lauding J. P. Greeley for his efforts in behalf of the group since its organization 10 years ago.

Introduced during the evening were Carl Hankey, second vice-president; John Malcom, San Juan Capistrano; James Irvine, Supervisor N. E. West, William H. Hess, new pastor of Christ Church, by-the-Sea at Newport, and Capt. Albert N. Park, new pastor at Capistrano.

DINNER PAINS FIREMEN

Trio on Dish Washing Detail

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Over-size bunks, complete with non-popping zippers, perhaps might have fitted over-stuffed members of the Huntington Beach fire department yesterday.

Monday night was the annual Christmas dinner in the firehouse with families and friends squeezing in between rigs and the extreme limits of the adjoining recreation room to find a place at the turkey-filled tables.

Fire commissioners and city councilmen in borrowed helmets, were among the distinguished guests, and helped the firefighters' children crack open the night's collection of wishbones.

But it was not all fun and no fires for the men of Firechief J. K. Sargent's department. At least, not for three of them with names beginning with the last letters of the alphabet. It was their turn on the dish-washing detail. They were Henry Wiegardt, Tan Vincent and H. W. Yost.

Grove W.C.T.U. to Meet Tomorrow

GARDEN GROVE.—Mrs. J. A. Wesley Smith will be hostess to the W. C. T. U. at her home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The meeting will be a Christmas party with a program and exchange of gifts.

Merry Christmas, kids!

Uncle Bob is going to give the $1 savings account prize today to Joy Crouse, of 2336 Fairmont, Santa Ana, for her letter on why she likes Christmas.

Joy has a lot of good reasons for liking the yule holiday, all of them good. One of the best is "because everyone is happy, and because everyone has made someone else happy."

Here's what she says: "I like Christmas best for that is the time of year that Jesus Christ was born."

"Also I like it because it is when everyone is happy, for they have all (or nearly all) made someone else happy."

CHRISTMAS LETTER PRIZE GOES TO JOY CROUSE

For the last two years at this time we have been giving a lot of our toys to the poor Mexican children in Garden Grove. I think that somehow when you give to others that are not as lucky as you it makes you very much happier on Christmas Day, or any other time.

I do not get to listen to your programs very often, but when I do, I enjoy them very much."

Now why don't the rest of you sit down and write Uncle Bob a 200-word letter on "Why I Like Christmas?" You can mail or bring it to Uncle Bob, at The Journal or KVOE, and who knows, you may win a prize!

CHAPTER V

Morley was annoyed. "So the amiable Mr. Lon has been discussing me again?"

Sylvia nodded. "Yes. I suspect he arose early for that special purpose."

Deucedly mysterious, this Chinese, thought Morley. Only last night he had been propositioning him. Now, this morning, he had gone to Sylvia Ames. What double game was he playing?

Morley asked bluntly. "Going to let me in on the secret?"

Sylvia smiled. "Why not? Perhaps you can continue where Mr. Lon left off. He had gotten to the point where he wanted to bargain with me when we were interrupted. As to you, he pointedly hinted you are interested in some pearls Mr. Ellis possesses. He—"

"Nice young man, Mr. Lon!" Morley said grimly.

Sylvia went on, still smiling. He hinted that you are a clever jewel thief, and that one of the ship's officers works with you."

Morley gaped. So Phil Lon had jumped to the conclusion, after hearing Morley's talk with the purser, that that officer was working hand in hand with him!

"Go on," he said. "Your story is getting interesting."

"Mr. Lon suggested that he might foil your wicked machinations. Of course, he wasn't thinking of doing it gratis."

"What was his price?"

"He was just getting around to that when Mr. Van Doering interrupted us," said Sylvia.

Morley stopped walking and faced her squarely.

"Sylvia, tell me—who are you? What is this to you? Why should Lon come to you about Ellis' pearls—bargain with you?"

She became evasive. "Mr. Ellis is an old friend of mine. So I suppose Lon chose to approach Mr. Ellis through me."

That was all Morley could get

FARM CENTER SEEKS NEW BUILDING

ORANGE.—Discussion of plans relative to building an assembly hall in which to hold meetings of the West Orange Farm center, featured last night's meeting of the center in the West Orange school.

Dian Gardner, county Farm bureau president, explained there is room on the newly purchased property of the Farm bureau, 353 South Main street, Orange, for an assembly hall, but if the West Orange center builds such a hall, they will have to share it with other centers who may wish to hold meetings there.

The estimated cost of such a building would be approximately $3000. The West Orange center would have priority rights in the use of the hall, and the county Farm bureau will pay all upkeep and maintenance costs. Opinions of members indicated that the initial cost is too great to be borne by one center, and the president, Louis Walker, was authorized to appoint a committee of three to work with county authorities to secure help from the other centers in the building project. The committee will be named later.

Mrs. Louis Walker, who spoke in the contest for home department speakers at the National Farm bureau convention at Pasadena, gave her speech, "What Is Ahead for Rural America?" Mrs. Walker was awarded second place in the state contest. Harold Wahlberg gave a talk, "Does Orchard Heating Pay?" and demonstrated with figures when it does and does not pay.

SURPLUS PRODUCTION FORECAST FOR CALIFORNIA LEMON GROWERS

SEE INCREASE IN BEARING ACREAGE

Growers Hope for Hot
Weather to Boost
Fruit Price

(Editor's Note: The following article is the second in a series of four which deal with the California agricultural outlook for 1937. The articles are based upon the 1937 agricultural outlook survey of the agricultural extension service, University of California. The material was obtained by experts of the agricultural extension service and the Giannini foundation.)

Post-harvest weather conditions have a tremendously important effect on lemon markets and prices, and lemon growers in California should begin right away to wish for a long, warm summer. Experience during the last 15 years indicates that a change of one degree, Fahrenheit, in the average summer temperature is associated with a change of about 60 cents a box in the f. o. b. price of lemons.

These findings are included in the 1937 agricultural outlook of the agricultural extension service, University of California, now being distributed.

Surplus Looms
Within the next several years, however, something better than normal summer temperatures will be needed to forestall an unwelcome surplus or falling prices. The trend indicates a marked increase in production in the next five years. At present, 18,300 acres are non-bearing, or about 30 per cent of the total lemon acreage.

While low production and high temperatures favored the crop in 1935-1936, the 1936-1937 crop prospect is 77 per cent of normal, as against 68 per cent last year. Hence production in the coming season is expected to be large again. However, to offset the possible depressing effect of lower temperatures on lemons, the fact that consumer buying power is much higher than it has been since 1931.

Must Expand Market
All of these factors considered, it is necessary to stimulate new types of demand for lemons here and to expand the export markets. In the latter case the outlook is for intensification of nationalist trade restrictions, which will limit United States exports.

Production to Rise
Most of California's bearing acreage is still young enough to increase production for some years to come.

California's bearing acreage is less than nine per cent of the national total. Of this combined acreage in Florida, Texas and Arizona, about two-thirds of the trees now in production are less than 15 years old.

Santa and the Viking

BY SIGRID ARNE

They brought out the reindeer, Blitzen.

THE STORY SO FAR

Nils, a Viking, who has been seeking his lost daughter, Gudrun, for 300 years, finally finds her in the palace of the Ice Queen. He sends to Santa for help in freeing her from the ice block in which she is imprisoned.

Chapter 9

Gudrun Is Freed

Santa's plan to free little Gudrun from the Ice Queen's palace meant that a great many of the workers in Toyland had to go to the ice kingdom. Santa called dozens of his elves around him, and told them of his plan:

"The only way we can help Nils," he said, "is to melt the ice block in which Gudrun is held prisoner. Two of you must carry a pan of living coals to the ice kingdom to start a fire. More of you must take along a bellows to keep the fire alive, and the rest of you must haul logs to feed the fire."

They Fly On Blitzen

The elves were off to do Santa's bidding so fast they sounded like a swarm of bees. They buzzed through the Christmas trees and saved off large branches which they cut into logs. They brought out the reindeer, Blitzen, and harnessed him. Then they hitched the logs to Blitzen. They took coals from the fire-place and placed them in a metal box, and they lifted down from its hook the bellows Santa uses to make a fire. When everything was ready the whole party of elves climbed onto Blitzen's back and ordered him to hurry.

"Whee-ee," whinnied Blitzen, delighted to go on the trip. He rose into the air like an arrow, shaking his antlers. He flew so fast that the falling snow stung the we, round cheeks of the elves. When they arrived at the Ice Queen's palace Blitzen just ducked his head and flew through the gates and into the throne room.

Nils and Captain Buttons were sitting alone beside Gudrun. The ice queen was still away chasing the magic roses which the fairy queen was sowing across the snowy fields of the North.

The Ice Melts Away

In a twinkling the elves had a good fire built at the foot of the ice-block in which Gudrun slept. The flames licked the ice, and drop, drop, drip, it melted away. Little pink hands, and finally after half an hour the last piece of ice cracked and Nils picked up his little girl hungrily in his arms. He spoke to her and kissed her curls, but she lay limp.

"Oh," cried Nils, "she must wake up. What shall I do?"

"Let's get out of here first," said the practical Captain Buttons. "The Ice Queen may come back. We can wake Gudrun back in Toyland." So the whole party climbed on Blitzen's back again, and he flew through the night sky so high that the elves picked a bag full of stars as they flew.

Bad Home Life Is Crime Cause

Inadequate home life, due to poverty and the incorrect influences of an unsatisfactory home background, are the chief causes of criminality, particularly of that phase of the social problem which deals with juvenile delinquency.

This was the message brought to an audience at the Orange County forum meeting Monday night in the high school by Charles N. Burrows of Simpson College, Iowa, who discussed the subject, "The American Crime Problem."

The speaker said it is a popular belief that individuals are born to a criminal career, but this is far from the truth, although he said one would hesitate to say inheritance does not count. He said environment is primarily productive of crime.

JAYSEE FAIR PLANS MUST BE RUSHED

Penny Carnival Deadline
Set for Friday by
Chairman Christ

Paul Christ, chairman of the annual Penny Fair held by Los Gatos service club of Santa Ana Junior college, announced today that all plans to be submitted by Jaysee organizations for their booths must be in by Friday.

Each organization sponsors a booth at the carnival, Christ explained, and a prize is awarded each year to the club displaying the most attractive exhibit and another award is given to the organization showing the most profit from the night's fun.

Because of the prolonged football season, the fair was postponed till the latter part of January or the first weeks in February, Christ revealed. In past years, the carnival was usually held in November, the chairman said.

"This year's fair will be held in the armory building again because the majority of the students had a good time there last year," Christ said.

Los Gatos, men's service club at Jaysee, will sponsor the affair for the third successive year. Harris Warren was chairman of Penny Fair last year, Christ said.

Gold Basketball Burglary Clew

Burglars who entered the homes of Henry Luchau and Vernon Valentine in Orange Sunday had operated in Long Beach the day before, sheriff's officers discovered today.

From a gold basketball and a key case dropped by the thieves at the Valentine home, officers located Ben L. Taylor of Long Beach, whose car was stolen and abandoned there Saturday, and W. Miffin, whose home was burglarized the same day.

A man at the Long Beach municipal airport said he saw the Taylor car abandoned there by a slender, tall, blond young man.

Report Increase in Sale Of Christmas Seals

A marked increase in sale of Christmas seals was reported today by Dr. M. W. Hollingsworth, secretary of the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health association, following a meeting of the board of directors Monday.

The Santa Ana seal sale total now stands at $1401.21 as compared with $1341.74 last year, and the county total is $4102.18 as compared to $3672.91 for last year, or an increase of $429.27. This is the first time in five years that an increase in Christmas Seal sales has been reported.

Although returns to date have been good, there are still 16,160 letters to be heard from in the county and 5240 in the city of Santa Ana. Dr. Hollingsworth said the association must hear from a majority of the letters out to enable the group to reach the goal of $10,000 for Orange county and $3500 for this district.

"You cannot prevent tuberculosis unless you know how," a statement issued by the association today said. "Christmas seals finance an educational and prevention campaign to tell people how. Tuberculosis took 80 lives needlessly in Orange county last year and caused the illness of around 700 people.

"And a real service is offered through our Friday afternoon chest clinics, held at the office of the tuberculosis association.

"To assist the Orange county health department, our association offers clinic service to students and others who react positively to the tuberculin test, when arrangements cannot be made for X-ray and examination by private physicians or at the county hospital.

"Because of this increased work with the school children in this county, additional funds are needed to enable the association to do what the community is demanding. If you are financially able, please buy your Christmas Seals if you have not already done so. And if you haven't received them, please phone or write the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health association, 112 West Fifth street, Santa Ana, phone 4797."

PLAN TOUR TO EXPERIMENT STATION

Orange County Citrus
Growers to Inspect
Test Plots

Much interest is manifested by the citrus growers of Orange county in tomorrow's tour to the citrus experiment station at Riverside, according to Jack Zinn, chairman of the citrus growers department of the Orange County Farm bureau. The tour, which has been arranged by the agricultural extension service in cooperation with the citrus experiment station, will give Orange county citrus growers a special opportunity to see the progress of citrus experiments in progress at the station, particularly concerning cultural problems of importance to Orange county conditions. Among the plots that will be observed are the fertilizer, mottle leaf control, cover crop, rootstock and bud selection.

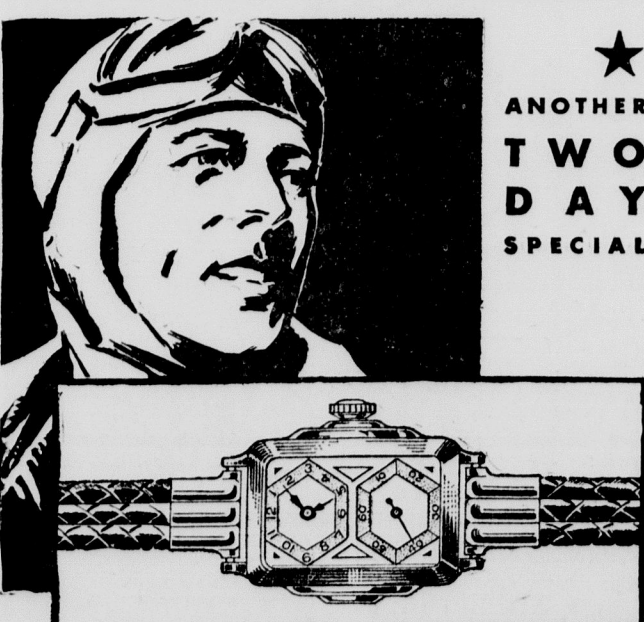

Any growers and others interested are invited to join the tour, according to Farm Adviser Harold E. Wahlberg. Two earavans will assemble and leave at the same hour, 8:30 a. m., Thursday. Cars will assemble at the Olive citrus packing house and at the Santa Fe depot yard in Placentia and leave promptly at 8:30 o'clock, under the direction of the extension service.

The program will start at 10 a. m. in the assembly room of the citrus experiment station. Dr. L. D. Batchelor, director, will welcome the Orange county growers.

Those attending are asked to take their basket lunch. Coffee will be served by the experiment station at the picnic grounds.

Job's Daughters Crown Charlotte McCausland Honored Queen for New Term

Ceremonies Held At Temple

Dance for Members of Bethel and Friends After Rites

Coronation of their honored queen and installation of her corps of officers elected for the ensuing six-month term was the occasion for beautifully impressive ceremonies held in the Masonic temple last night by Santa Ana Bethel No. 45, Job's Daughters.

To Dorothy Carlson, the retiring honored queen, went the honor of installing her successor, Miss Charlotte McCausland, Miss Carlson's entrance following the escorting to the room of Mrs. Winnie May Dean, guardian, and Frank Sawyer, associate guardian. Mrs. Dean was in a black formal dress with black lace sleeves and with a corsage of pink blossoms across the front of the neck, and Miss Carlson, escorted by Mr. Sawyer, wore a black gown with brilliant at the collar line and on the front of the belt. She also had a pink corsage.

Eloise Schreier in a pink formal banded with blue velvet, and with pink flowers in her hair, carried the Bible to its place on the altar, where the incoming officers, in their robes of white and headbands of purple, knelt for their installation.

Queen Installed
Miss McCausland carried a bouquet of red roses and the other new officers had corsages of purple and white. Miss Betty Jo Willets gave the tribute to the flag, and Miss Virginia Stewart played the piano accompaniment, also giving several solos during an interval in the ceremonies.

Following the beautiful installation rites, in which the queen and her two honored princesses, Mary Crowe and Jane Austin, were presented with their gold crowns and purple robes, the officers were escorted to their stations. The other new officers were: Eloise Schreier, treasurer; Margaret Sawyer, recorder; Virginia Stewart, musician; Mildred Pearson and Clarice Miller, junior and senior custodian; and Betty Jo Willets, giving the flag tribute.

Introductions of visiting honored queens and princesses, past honored queens and princesses, Deputy Grand Guardian Ada Lavender from Long Beach, the guardian council of the Bethel, and the De Molay master councillor and De Molay advisory council, Bob Fowler, in behalf of the De Molays, presented flowers to the retiring and the incoming queen.

Following Miss Carlson's farewell, she turned the gavel over to her successor.

Presentation of the past queen's ring was made by the new senior princess, and William Dean presented a gavel to the new queen, a gift from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. McCausland.

A dance for the Bethel members and friends followed in the basement of the temple, closing the evening's festivities.

MONA SMITH IS REVIEWER AT EBELL SECTION

First Book Review section of Junior Ebells received a very special and delightful treat last night when they were privileged to hear Mona Summers Smith's first review of a new dramatic hit, "Stage Door" by George Kaufman and Edna Ferber.

As she remarked, Kaufman has done several things far superior to figuring in diaries, and this latest play is positive evidence to prove that.

She led the play review itself, with a very few interpolations that brought out its very amusing sidelights, and with, of course, her excellent ability to put herself into the part of each character as she read.

Mrs. Smith was introduced by Mrs. Albert Harvey, leader of the section, who, with Mrs. Crawford Nalle and Miss Lolita Mead, was hostess to the section in her home, 1005 Louise street. Mrs. Harvey conducted a brief business session with reference to the monthly list of three books that are to be read by the group, and announced that the next meeting would be at the home of Mrs. Arthur Wade, with Mrs. Harold Dale assisting.

BRIDGE CLUB IN ANNUAL YULE DINNER PARTY

Their traditional Christmas party was the pleasure of a Santa Ana bridge club group last night when the members and their husbands were entertained at the annual affair by Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Shifflet in their Greenleaf street home.

Little cellophane Christmas trees, which centered the tables in the dining room and den where dinner was served, were miniature replicas of the large and beautifully decorated tree around which the Christmas gifts were exchanged.

After dinner, the members of the club presented their gifts to each other and humorous gifts to the men of the group, and following the merriment four tables of bridge were enjoyed.

Participating in the gaiety were the Messrs. and Mesdames Lyle Anderson, S. W. Hill, Fred May, Ernest Gould, Dick Ewert, and Victor Walker, Miss Alice Majors, and Paul Beckman, and the host and hostess.

Parlor Marks Eleventh Birthday

Eleven years old this December is Santa Ana parlor of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, the anniversary adding incentive to the approaching holiday as inspiration for the gala Christmas party Monday night in the Knights' Columbus hall.

The Daughters gathered in the hall in the afternoon for a business session presided over by Mrs. W. H. Mize, going at 6 o'clock to the home cafe for a turkey dinner at beautifully decorated tables.

Places for 40 were laid at three long tables screened off from the rest of the dining room, and Christmas wreaths, red and green nut cups, and other Yuletide appointments created a festive atmosphere for the occasion.

During the dessert course, Mrs. Mize asked each member what she wanted for Christmas, and much merriment surrounded the responses.

Their families joined them after dinner for a gay evening around a beautiful Christmas tree, where a cleverly arranged exchange had provided gifts for all.

Bridge and pinocle games were enjoyed, with prizes going to Mrs. Mize and A. P. Dresser, in the first, and Mrs. Elva Selvig in the other game, and another hour of feasting followed at the conclusion of the evening.

The gay holiday motif chosen by Miss Gladys Edwards, decorations chairman, for both the hall and the dinner tables at the cafe was further carried out on the long banquet tables at which the Christmas refreshments were served at the end of the evening. Christmas candles were the central theme of the decorations on the tables, alternating with pottery plates heaped high with sandwiches and popcorn balls.

A huge cake with 11 candles, marking the birthday of the parlor, came in with the dessert course and was cut and served by Mrs. Mize. Seated at the head table with her were Mrs. Mattie Edwards, vice president, and the past presidents of the chapter, including M. E. d. s. Genevieve Hickey, Eunice Fox and Mae West.

Mrs. Arthur Edwards, Mrs. A. P. Dresser and Mrs. Walter Hickey had charge of the refreshments.

The parlor's doll, which they had dressed to sell as a benefit for homeless children, was won by Mrs. J. A. Gant and the quilt by Mrs. Delbert Liggett.

I. T. U. WOMEN COMPLETE PLANS FOR DINNER

Much business was transacted by members of the International Typographical Union auxiliary Monday night when it set aside that evening for a number of important matters. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Carl Fisher, 405 East Washington, with Mrs. V. C. Shidler as co-hostess.

Final plans for the family Christmas dinner next Saturday night at 7:15 o'clock at Home cafe were made, and reservations are being taken by Mrs. Fisher, phone 4551-W.

Boosters club will have a covered dish luncheon and Christmas party, with exchange of gifts, on Friday at the home of Mrs. Lenore Fletcher in Long Beach.

Mrs. Birt, Mrs. Farmer and Mrs. Dunlap were named the committee in charge of the installation.

TWO ENTERTAIN AT CHRISTMAS PARTY FOR CLUB

Mrs. R. A. McPhee of 911 West Camille and Mrs. E. E. Lentz of 2042 South Broadway were co-hostesses today at a delightful luncheon at Daniger's, entertaining their needlework club at its annual Christmas party.

Santa Claus and his reindeer centered the table at which they seated their guests, their places being marked with little sleigh nut cups.

After a jolly hour at the luncheon table, the members were taken to the McPhee home for an afternoon of gay chat and an exchange of gifts around a big tree.

The group of friends included the Mesdames A. R. Bennett, A. E. Edwards, E. E. Perry, W. R. Edwards, H. R. Trott, M. O. Johnson, B. T. Edwards, W. L. Harbert and B. A. Hershey and the two hostesses.

CONTRACT GROUP WITH MRS. HALL

Mrs. Roy Hall was hostess to her bridge club today, entertaining the members at a prettily arranged luncheon at Daniger's and later taking them to her home at 420 South Birch street for contract in a pretty Christmas setting.

Present to enjoy the game and the gift exchange were the Mesdames George Briggs, F. E. Barnes, C. V. Davis, A. J. Cruickshank, Robert Tuthill, A. G. Flagg, Parke Roper, James Harding, Philip Hatfield, E. S. Morrow and the hostess, and one substitute, Mrs. James Irvine.

Old Story Is Retold for Club

Just as "The Night Before Christmas" will never be old to the hearts of little children, so also does Henry Van Dyke's story of "The Other Wise Man" strengthen its hold in the hearts of older children and grownups every time it is repeated.

Yesterday, Ernest Crozier Phillips, head of the drama department of Santa Ana Junior college, brought the old story once again to the Woman's club members when he was asked to speak at their Christmas meeting in the Legion clubhouse.

The tale of the fourth wise man who was too late to see the King because he stopped often to feed the hungry, give water to the thirsty, and rescue the perishing, gained in beauty and meaning as Mr. Phillips, who has told it often to Santa Ana audiences, interpreted its message of love and service at this new Yuletide season.

His talk was preceded by a Christmas musical program presented by singers from the college music department, directed by Miss Myrtle Martin. Singing as a quartet, Horace Evans, Fred Erdhaus, Reuben Krutz, and "Josh" Brady chose as the opening numbers "Shepherd's Song Off Your Drowsy Sleep" and "Passing By." Two solos followed, Miss Nina June Robertson, soprano, singing "Down in the Forest" and James Haaretad, baritone, "The Blind Pilgrim."

The girls' chorus concluded the program with the number, "The Cavalier and the Slave." The lovely voices of the young people filled the hall with an atmosphere of other Christmases and brought pleasure to their audience in their well-selected program.

Members of the chorus were Marjane Belcher, Ann Weatherly, Nina June Robertson, Jeannette Bodman, Eliza Mae Hoxie, Evelyn Richards, Rae Langley, Josephine Kessler, Sabre Batchelor, Leola Schroeder and Helen Waer. Accompanists were Eliza Mae Hoxie and Genevieve Eustis. Mrs. R. A. McMahon, the club's vice president, was the program chairman.

Exchange of gifts around a huge and brightly decorated Christmas tree followed yesterday's meeting, and tea was served at a pretty lace-covered table centered with a miniature Christmas scene with snow and a reindeer-drawn sleigh.

Mrs. F. A. Martin, president of the club, and Mrs. E. M. Waycott, junior past president, presided at the tea urns, and serving on the refreshment committee were the Mesdames Nannie Myers, C. N. Coon, E. J. Grothier, Mary Croal, James Clark, Hal Noel, Emma Shearman and Agnes Winbush, and Miss Minnie Besser.

PASO TIEMPO CLUB HAS GIFT EXCHANGE

Mrs. Carl Klatt entertained the Paso Tiempo club today at her East Seventeenth street home, serving a delightful dessert course at the beginning of the afternoon. In addition to the usual games of contact in the afternoon, the members enjoyed a gift exchange.

Those participating in the informal pleasure of the afternoon were the Mesdames E. B. Collier, L. M. Banks, Charles Borchard, Nannie Belle Lester, Ethelbert Johnson, P. C. Dietler, F. F. Mead, J. P. Murphy and the hostess.

PAN HELLENIC HAS CHRISTMAS CARD PARTY

Individual molds of snow pudding, each topped by a tiny red candle burning when brought to the table, were served to Pan Hellenic members last night at the lovely dessert bridge party given by Mrs. R. C. Harris, Mrs. Elsie Daly, Miss Martha Wirtick, and Mrs. H. G. Wilson, at the Harris home on North Main street.

The evening was ushered in with candlelight and Christmas music, the chorus of Tri-Y girls and alumna, directed by Miss Clara Spielman, serenading from an adjoining room during the refreshment hour.

Red tapers in a lovely candelabra, and arrangements of pine needles and poinsettias, were reflected in a large mirror on the wall, giving a holiday atmosphere to the setting.

In the five tables of bridge enjoyed during the evening, Mrs. Harry LeBar, Mrs. Loyal King, Mrs. William Croddy, Mrs. William Stauffer, and Mrs. H. F. Petersmeyer won contract prizes, and Miss Helen Westering the auction award. Mrs. Petersmeyer was a guest of the group.

A telegram arrived at the party from Mrs. Warren Fletcher, the president, who is on her way home from the East, and was read by Mrs. George Spielman, presiding in her absence. Reports were given on plans for the December 26 dance in the Orange Woman's clubhouse.

WOULD YOU LIKE TO HEAR THESE CAROLLERS?

If you are a shut-in and would like to hear the voices of young girl carollers outside your window on Sunday evening, or if you know of any people confined to their homes and long to hear whom this would bring a bit of Christmas cheer, call the Y. W. C. A., phone 2081, and ask for Miss Mary Porter.

That is the message which Miss Porter, executive secretary of the Y. W. C. A., issued today through the Y. W. C. A.

As a part of the Christmas activity among the "Y" group this year, a chorus of 25 Tri-Y Girl Reserves and alumna have been rehearsing for weeks under the direction of Miss Clara E. Spielman. They have planned this Sunday period of carolling through the town in addition to the many engagements at meetings and parties they have been filling these weeks before Christmas.

MUSICAL ARTS YULE PROGRAM

A "just talking" program was both a distinct novelty and an overwhelming success at yesterday's Christmas party of the Musical Arts club.

About twenty-five members gathered for a delicious luncheon at the Doris Kathryn tea room at noon, and after a very brief business meeting presided over by Mary Batten Steffensen, they enjoyed to the fullest extent a period of Christmas carolling, for they all are proficient musicians. Beulah Parker led the singing, with Mrs. Charles Nalle as accompanist.

This was followed by that always delightful ceremony of dismantling the Christmas tree of its myriads of attractively wrapped presents. It had been decided that each one would bring an inexpensive practical gift—not just a comic one and instead of the usual babbles surrounding the unwrapping of each individual's present, Cecil Fross Willits, acting program chairman, suggested that each unwrap his or her gift in turn, and deliver a one minute speech on its applicability.

And what an uproar of merriment followed! Gifts ranged from bars of soap to tea-pots—and many were the amusing speeches delivered. This interlude was followed by each member's telling of first remembrance of Christmas, and this too was delightful.

Edith Cloyes Is Hostess At Lunch

Mrs. Edith Cloyes was hostess yesterday to one of the prettiest luncheon parties in recent months, when she entertained a group of close friends and co-members of her Ebells book review section before its meeting yesterday afternoon.

She chose Daniger's as the setting for the affair, and with her flair for the artistic, succeeded in creating an exceptionally beautiful table arrangement. A long narrow mirror extended the length of the single table, with clusters of silvery-blue grapes strewn upon it alternating with sprays of blue and silver Christmas tree balls, and with tiny iridescent blue head trees on either side of blue tapers set in silver candle holders.

Her placecards carried out the madonna motif of blue and silver, with name cards bearing a madonna head, and with each tied to a tiny blue and silver tree set in a mirrored star.

Those invited to share in the delightful party and the meeting afterward were the featured speaker of the day, Mrs. Leslie Kimmel of Laguna Beach, Mrs. Harry Gordon Martin and Mrs. Annette Arnold of Laguna Beach, Mrs. Earl Abbey, Mrs. E. B. Sprague, Mrs. R. C. Mixer, Mrs. Paul Bailey, Mrs. Ralph Smedley, Mrs. F. C. Rowland, Mrs. E. D. White, Mrs. Terry Stephenson, Mrs. John Tessmann, Mrs. Aldric Warrwick, Mrs. Alice H. Hatch, Mrs. David Holloway, and Mrs. Frank Paterson.

BIRTHDAY CLUB TO HAVE YULE GIFTS

Christmas instead of birthdays will be the incentive for tonight's meeting of a little birthday club of friends who have planned to go to Daniger's for a Dutch treat dinner and then to the Elmer Thompson home, 717 South Lyon street, for the rest of the evening.

Several hours of friendly chat, games, and an exchange of gifts around a big tree were enjoyed by the members, who include Mr. and Mrs. Fred Timm, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wyckhoff, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. King and the Misses Helen Gallagher, Mabel Cole, Helen Klein, Ethel and Esther Coffman, and Miss Marie Fowler.

HOME BUILDERS

Home builders class of the First Methodist church will have its annual Christmas party Friday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Irwin home, 2407 Santiago.

Ex-Stanford Women Name Officers

Miss Margaret Swingle of Huntington Beach will serve as president of the Stanford Women's club of Orange county for the coming year, it was decided at an unusually interesting meeting of the group Monday night at Laguna Beach.

Miss Swingle will have as her assisting officers Mrs. John Jacobs of Tustin, vice president, and Mrs. Edna Dean Condon of Huntington Beach, secretary-treasurer. She succeeds Mrs. J. Parley Smith of Santa Ana as president.

The club was entertained in delightful fashion by Mrs. N. E. West, who chose to take her fellow members to the studio of an artist-friend, rather than present a program in her own home. Mrs. Ruth Peabody, well-known for her outstanding artistry in modeling, and her mother, Mrs. Elinor Colburn, also a talented artist, very graciously had arranged a complete display of their excellent work, and each illuminated the exhibit with pertinent comments on modern art.

When everyone had looked and talked to her heart's content, a buffet supper was served there in the studio by a cateress.

The Stanford women will meet next on January fourth at the home of Miss Thelma Patton, 1103 North Broadway. She will be assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Ross Shafer.

SNOW SCENE IS LUNCHEON TABLE CENTERPIECE

Mrs. George Briggs entertained at a lovely Christmas luncheon recently at her home at 644 North Broadway, seating her guests at one long table spread with Chinese linens and centered with a Yule landscape miniature with tree, sleigh, and Santa Claus.

The house was all decked in reds and greens of the Christmas season.

Contract games followed the luncheon, with prizes in the play going to Mrs. Warren Hillyard, high, Mrs. Harvey Gardner, second, and Mrs. William Smith, third.

Guests of Mrs. Briggs on this occasion were the Mesdames Cecil Beas, Leon Dickey, C. Dietrich, Arthur Angle, Walter Eaton, William Smith, Warren Hillyard, Pauline Tyler, Charles Adams, and Harvey Gardner, and the Misses Opal Davis, Alice Wasse, Mary Andrews, and Gertrude and Frances Potts.

SONGS, PIANO SELECTIONS ON KVOE

The second song and piano recital by Harold Gorton, tenor, and Mae and Harold Larson, pianists, will be broadcast from KVOE at 8 o'clock, to include two songs and two double piano selections.

The songs will be "Friend O'Mine," Sanderson, and "Water Boy," arranged by Robinson. Using two pianos, Carol Mae and Harold Larson will play "Morning Mood" from Grieg's "Peer Gynt" Suite No. 1, and "Humoresque" by Chopin.

Another "Yuletide" presentation of Christmas carols is scheduled at 8:15, and following the news broadcast at 8:30 the Salon String ensemble will offer an especially delightful group of light classics to include Drigo's "Serenade," "Le Cygne" by Saint-Saens, and others.

Drifting Yodeler Gone From KVOE

With regret, program officials of KVOE announce another "emigration" of "Blue, the Drifting Yodeler," who has been scheduled at 5 p. m. for more than a week and has pleased many listeners with his humorous and sad song-stories. A singing contract in Long Beach caused "Blue" to "drift" again, although it is possible he will return at a later date. In his stead Duke Martin and his boys of the Round-up will carry on at 5 o'clock in the evenings, this evening to sing "Round-up in the Sky," "She Sleeps Beneath the Stars," "Little Old Sod Shanty," "Birmingham Jail" and others.

Smedley, Daughter Tell About Words

An interesting and informal discussion of the origin of words found in the dictionary and how the definition of one word leads to another will be given in this evening's adult education broadcast by Ralph Smedley and his daughter, Betty, from KVOE at 5:30. This broadcast will be one of the series entitled "Words and Their Ways," by Smedley, scheduled every Wednesday evening at the same hour.

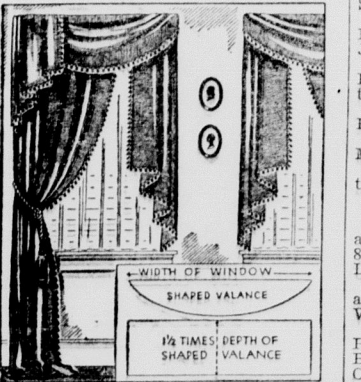

Delle, Erma on KVOE at 6:15 p. m.

Responding to many requests, Delle Hamilton, pianist, and Erma Baxter, vocalist, will offer a group of special melodies this evening on KVOE at 6:15 to include "The Way You Look Tonight," "Why Stars Come Out at Night," "I Love You Truly" and "The Old Spinning Wheel."

Delle's and Erma's "programette" is scheduled Wednesday at the same hour.

These Rich Draperies Are Easy to Make

These lustrous draperies of eggshell with mulberry tassel fringe look elaborate—just right for this season of elegance—but they're really simple to make. Perfect, too, for a pair of windows.

Gleaming rayon satin, taffeta or rep cascades to the floor on one side. On the other a jabot falls to the sill. The jabot's a width of fabric with bottom cut to slant up at a sharp angle. The valance is a buckram foundation shaped to fit your window, with fabric cut as diagram shows and stitched to the foundation in graceful folds. A short jabot hangs over side drapery and valance.

Our 32-page booklet gives diagrammed directions for valance boards, shows how to fasten draperies to them. Complete instructions for all types of curtains and draperies. Beautify your house at little cost this easy way.

Send 10c for your copy of How to Make Curtains and Draperies to Santa Ana Journal, Home Service. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

Youth and Crime

TEN YOUTHS under 21 years of age sit in the death house at Sing Sing awaiting the jolt to eternity. Never before in the history of criminology records of Sing Sing, comments Warden Lewis E. Lawes, has such a number of juvenile murderers awaited execution.

Whereupon scores of editors sit down to their typewriters to grind out editorials on "Crime Never Pays"; hundreds of sentimentalists get out their pens to indict scathing letters to the governor of New York opposing the execution of boys; thousands of citizens begin campaigns for abolishment of the death penalty; and millions of men and women reserve a portion of their conversation with families and friends to sorrowfully remark, "Our young people are going to the dogs."

It is true that crime never pays, that execution of boys is regrettable, that the death penalty could just as well be abolished if our laws would provide that a murderer sent to prison for life would have to remain there for life.

But for intelligent people to express the conviction that the boys and girls of today are on the road to ruin is utterly ridiculous.

What if there are 10 or even a hundred boys awaiting execution, or a thousand or a hundred thousand boys and girls confined in prison or reformatories for engaging in criminal pursuits? For every youthful slayer awaiting his day of doom in the United States there are a million boys and girls leading sane and orderly lives who will grow up to become respectable and trustworthy citizens.

And instead of offering our sympathies to young murderers and expending our efforts toward lightening the price the law decrees they shall pay for taking human life, it would be better for us to direct our energies against existing conditions which were responsible for making criminals out of them.

Roosevelt sure caught the Argentine, cabled the correspondent! Piffle! How many yellowtail and barracuda did he catch?

Do Your Mailing Now

LAST MINUTE mailing is just as discomfiting proportionately to just as many people as last minute shopping, which everybody connected with the retail trades around Christmas time knows, ruefully, all about. It is a fine thing, just now, to give employment to additional people, but a little thought will convince anyone that a mad rush within a few days does not mean prosperity to many, but mighty hard work for a comparatively few.

Give a little thought to the postmen, to the mail clerks, to the railroad men, to the traffic officers, to those directly or indirectly connected with package delivery and the transportation of crowds, and the men who work on the trucks of the stores.

It is really these men—and women—who make effective the whole idea of Christmas giving. It is easy to think of giving a present, but those who actually do the work of selling and delivery are sometimes taken as a matter of course.

Do your mailing early, which includes doing your shopping now. By doing so you will assist in ameliorating the rush.

In rendering a Christmas carol before an apartment house always avoid getting G minor mixed up with A, B, or F flat.

How to 'Feel' Christmas

WE WHO CAME from the East or Middle-West used to remark back there that it never seemed like Christmas unless there was snow on the ground.

Consequently when the big holiday of the year approaches, it sometimes is difficult for us, now that we are in Southern California's land of sunshine, to get the "feel" of Christmas.

There is a remedy, however, that will make everyone realize the Yuletide is close at hand. It is to take a walk about the downtown streets, listen to the Christmas music, view the decorations and visit the stores where the busy hand of Santa Claus has been at work stocking the counters and shelves with holiday gifts.

For those Santa Anans who haven't as yet acquired the "feel" of Christmas, we suggest there is no time like the present to make that trip downtown, for tonight all the stores will begin their annual custom of remaining open until 9 o'clock every night up to and including Christmas eve.

The new Russian constitution has been amended to empower the government to declare war "in case of necessity." Sounds very practical!

Early California Drama

DRAMA of early California days in what is now Orange county is brought to light in an entertaining manner by Santa Ana's historical authority, Terry E. Stephenson, in a volume just off the press titled "Forster vs. Pico, a California Cause Celebre."

It is an intriguing work, this recounting of litigation between relatives over one of California's greatest Spanish land grants, and persons interested in early-day lore of this section will find much enjoyment in the volume's perusal.

Mr. Stephenson should be congratulated for devoting so much time and energy in digging up facts with which every school child in Orange county should be acquainted.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

The commercial vision of the Rockefellerers is again forcibly demonstrated by the final success of Rockefeller Center. In 1932, when the first of the buildings was opened, it promised to be the most colossal real estate blunder on record. The Music Hall opening offered no solace.

Critics regarded it as the most agonizing theatrical failure they ever witnessed when they left at 1 a. m. with the show still lumbering like a tinselled, wounded elephant. It was such a flop it broke the heart of the master showman, Roxy, and caused his demise.

The erudite Walter Lippman penned a jeremiad to the futility of the whole scheme and The New Yorker made it the theme of several cartoon hoots. Floor after floor of the giant spires were untenanted and the population of the area was not more than 5000. People shuddered passing by.

Today Rockefeller Center has said good-bye to all that. Clockers have found that in the three blocks of new buildings there is a compact city of 100,000 souls. There are a few vacancies in ground floor shops but the office space is reaching saturation point.

The decision of the Rockefellerers, junior, to give up their long established home in the shadows of Rockefeller Center for a Park avenue apartment removes two of the most familiar residences of the city for tourists. The elder Rockefeller home, next door, is also to go. They were comparatively modest symbols of the oil men's desire to shun show. Many residences all around were vastly more pretentious. The only marked differences were the derided private guards who always lounged in the shadows. Fastidiously apartment spires appealing especially to Gold Coast tenants will arise on the sites.

The elder Rockefeller's manse was the last private residence of a servants' hall on the grounds—a long two-story brick after the manner of Rhineland castle stables. In motorless days was a carriage for the servants to use on afternoons off. Families of extreme wealth, I am told, are kept in ignorance of servant trouble. A chateau becomes the boss and engages and discharges help and her job depends on seeing her employers are never bothered by trouble below stairs.

Real estate writers are referring to the strip in Park avenue lying between Forty-sixth and Fifty-ninth streets as the new rue de la Paix. Since the Waldorf made its stand there with its cluster of boutiques, the idea spread to the Park Lane next door and surrounding apartment buildings that sliced first floors into shops. They are sparkling niches without signs. Clerks sport lapel flowers, black coats, ledger ruled trousers and other hi-falutness.

They were talking of an expensive dinner Winnie Sheehan had served at LaSalle du Bois, a wacky restaurant. The host remembered the Portuguese friend in Ohio had sent to his New York hotel a cask of old-fashioned up-the-holler apple butter, the sort that retained a delicate after cling of wood smoke. All the imported and domestic dainties were in tempting array but the touch everybody discussed over the coffee was the lollipop of apple butter served with the duck.

Psychiatrists in delving among the complexes say that tucked in every brain is the memory of an outstanding meal and invariably it was some simple repast in out-of-the-way surroundings—a catfish fry along a levee front, cheese, crackers and a tin of sardines in a country store served, or a joint of pork pick-up at some prairie depot or a barbecue in the deep woods. Fritz Kreisler has a yen for corn-pone, pot likker and black-eyed peas and Arnold Bennett thought one of our delectable dishes was corn beef and cabbage.

My own most memorable meal was in Laredo, Texas, depot after six weeks of brimstone bounty in old Mexico. It was a stool and counter joint with country sausage covered with eggs scrambled in melted cheese—try that on your palate with bitely sorghum. The three waitresses gathered around to watch me lay to. And as a token of my gustatory delight I left a dollar bill for each. And if you don't think that's appreciation you are not up on Scotch generosity.

Science News

The Western Electric Co. has developed a new stethoscope which greatly amplifies heart sounds. It is in reality an amplifier with a special microphone which is applied to the patient's body over the heart. The impulses picked up can be magnified to any desired degree. Doctors claim that with this new stethoscope they can hear internal murmurs that were formerly impossible to detect.

TOY SOLDIERS AGAIN

To the Editors: O. O. McIntyre's picture on The Journal's editorial page I read: "It is heaven upon earth to have a man's mind move in charity, rest in Providence, and turn upon the poles of truth—Bacon."

A good mouthful. Why in thunder didn't someone send a line like that to the city duds before they put the toy soldiers and their wooden guns all over the shopping district.

When school is out, every vacant lot is full of small children playing "bad men," gangsters and stick-em-up men. That is a very sad condition. We could at least try at the Christmas season to take their minds off shooting, killing and guns.

We take the youngsters to town to see the nice Christmas windows and pretty toys. And there are the toy soldiers and their wooden guns at every lamp post.

I am in a new embarrassment: I've been planning to give a darling little 8-year-old blonde girl a beautiful doll I have been dressing for the past week. Yesterday I asked her what she wanted Santa to bring her most of all. Her reply was "A gun!" Yes sir, she said, she wants an air rifle and a belt with a gun and shells. I am sick at heart. This doll is all the Christmas shopping I have done and all I will do. It is heart-breaking to mothers and most all women.

I must write to some one about it and get it out of my system. So, you are the goat. Santa Ana. MRS. M. F. P.

One Man's Opinion

By Duncan Ellsworth Clark

EDITOR'S NOTE—Here is an informative, analytical daily feature on current topics. The opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily the same as those held by The Journal.

The Lion Yawns and Lies Down Again

THE BRITISH empire has given an anxious world another needed lesson in the virtue and stability of free peoples. Traditional Britain has again "muddled through" a situation which had dangerous possibilities for the welfare of one-quarter of earth's teeming population and may easily have involved all the jostling nations in peril. For international sanity is so nicely balanced at present, and is so much involved in the fortunes of Britain that any question as important as the British crown is of paramount significance.

Nowhere else could such startling events have been carried through so smoothly, with so little disturbance to daily living. Certainly in none of the martial nations of Europe. Riots, tumult, bloodshed would have accompanied such an abdication. Only in Britain could the king's speech of farewell have been accepted so calmly. Affections in the British people run deeply but not violently. They love institutions much more than the people who chance to occupy them. The kingship is their binding tie of constitutional government, but that does not necessarily mean any particular bearer of the crown.

In this matter also the British people are unique. They find no great obstacle in separating their king from the kingship. They have done it many times in their history.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

(Editor's Note: Drew Pearson, now in Europe, is writing a "Merry-Go-Round" of the foreign situation. Following is his first dispatch from Gibraltar, the Atlantic gateway to the Mediterranean and southern Europe.)

GIBRALTAR.—This rock, identified in the United States with the mightiest fortress in the world, is on the verge of becoming about as useful as Fort Robinson, Neb., once a blockhouse against hostile Indians. The life insurance companies will have to revamp their advertising.

Gibraltar is still a most imposing sight. It just oozes into the Mediterranean with all the authority of the British Empire which rules it. Its artillery emplacements are so cleverly concealed that the strongest binoculars cannot locate them. Its placid, rocky surface covers a labyrinth of underground passages connecting a series of the most powerful big guns in existence. It has elevators running far down to arsenals stocked to withstand a siege of months.

But all that painstaking preparation is about to be rendered useless by one development, now recognized as plainly as the nose on your face by all those who have watched the Spanish revolution. It is this:

In order to get German and Italian airplanes, aviators and the munitions without which he would have been defeated long ago, General Franco has made the following promises:

1. Italy gets the Balearic Isles, strategically placed just inside the Mediterranean and capable of controlling its western bottleneck into the Atlantic.

2. Germany gets the Spanish colonies in Africa, chiefly Spanish Morocco, which is directly opposite Gibraltar and capable of nullifying the power of the British batteries so carefully hidden inside the rock.

PROSTRATE SPAIN This deal is a proposition of "Heads, Germany and Italy win; tails, Spain loses."

For even if General Franco is defeated—as is now beginning to appear likely—Hitler and Mussolini will go ahead with the deal just the same. The only difference will be that instead of claiming Spanish colonies in payment for the munitions they have given Franco, they will attempt to take them in the role of "protectors of Europe against Communism."

A prostrate Spain, no matter which way the war goes, will be able only to protest. And it is doubtful that Britain, rapidly arming but still unarmed, will risk war, even though the proud might of Gibraltar is punctured.

Note: England always has wanted the Balearic Isles and Spanish Morocco to remain in weak hands—Spain. King Alfonso was decidedly pro-British, and an English princess also sat on the Spanish throne. More than once Spanish premiers wanted to relinquish barren Spanish Morocco, but Alfonso and the British opposed. They opposed even such relinquishment to France, a friendly power.

NO REAL PEACE

There is no question in the minds of impartial observers of the sympathies of the bulk of the Spanish people. They are overwhelmingly with the Spanish government.

Furthermore, the use of black troops and the Foreign Legion—which have borne the brunt of

Twenty-Five Years Ago

DEC. 16, 1911

It isn't often a man really breaks into jail, but that feat was accomplished yesterday by Charles Timpike, who refused to leave Justice of Peace Cox's courtroom after he had been ordered to go on his own recognizance after the hearing of a complaint against him for disturbing the peace.

A lad named Lauri Hatterrmini, an employee of the Plaza Meat Market of Orange, fell from his wheel last evening and broke one of his legs. The unfortunate boy was found later lying in the road and conveyed to his home.

W. L. Allison left Wednesday for a business trip to Spokane, Wash., going via the Salt Lake and Hood River routes.

Misses Bertha and Ruth Armstrong left yesterday for Willow Glen, where they will visit their sister, Mrs. H. A. Tedford.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillips were hosts at a charming one o'clock luncheon yesterday, the table decorations being pink roses. Those invited to sit at the hospitable board were Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Medlock, Miss Velda Medlock, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Minter, Miss Blanche and Lula Minter, Mr. and Mrs. Carey R. Smith, Mrs. Greenville Spurgeon, and Mrs. A. L. Cole.

Mrs. J. S. Leroy left the early part of the week for her home in Central City, Neb., going via the Salt Lake Route.

BULL-FIGHTS

Portugal, land of the historic bull-fight, is deserting that sport for football.

Only six bull-fights were held in Lisbon last year. The management of the bull ring says it cannot compete against them.

GERMAN INFLUENCE

Signs that Germany is back again as a real world power begin to hit you along the North African coast and in Spanish waters.

When war broke in Spain, Hitler sent a flotilla of his brand-new naval vessels to "protect German citizens." In the past he has been only too glad to accept British aid for this. Or he could have accepted the help of his new ally, Mussolini, who had 15 ships on the spot.

But he didn't. He wanted to show what the new German navy was like, that Germany is to be reckoned with as a naval power in the future. Also, it was a good thing from his viewpoint to have a few ships near the Spanish African colonies that Germany covets.
